Let's Start!

Where's the maître d'?

Learning Outcome

Exchange advice and suggestions in communicative situations.

Ask your partner:

- What types of jobs do people do in restaurants?
- Would you like to work in a restaurant? Why or why not?

Can Do Statements

- I can talk about jobs and work.
- I can discuss how to deal with problems.
- I can talk about what is advisable.

Let's Explore!

Bruce talks to Vanessa about the graveyard shift at Bistro 88. They could always use another bartender!

* "Could always" is a way of saying that something is both possible and beneficial.

Instructions: Read the text aloud.

- Bruce: Hi Vanessa, can I have a word with you?
Vanessa: Hi Bruce! Sure, Bruce. This is my friend Peter.
Bruce: Hello.
Peter: Hi. Are you the head chef?
Bruce: Yes I am.
Peter: I had the chicken drumsticks. I loved them!
Bruce: Thanks. You ought to try the roast beef next time.
Vanessa: How can I help you, Bruce?
Bruce: The night shift is from 10:00 p.m. to 2:00 a.m.
Vanessa: Oh yes, that's the graveyard shift.
Bruce: I want to follow up on our meeting last week. I recommended staying open until 4:00 a.m., but it can get very busy around midnight. I want to make sure we don't have staffing problems. Sometimes we run into problems when we are short-staffed.
Vanessa: I wouldn't worry about it. We set up the work schedule already. We have three servers, two bus people, a kitchen manager, a soup and sauce cook and a maître d'. Isn't that enough?
Bruce: I would hire more staff. That would be very helpful. You could always add a sous chef and maybe a bartender.
Vanessa: It might turn out to be a good idea. I'll fill you in tomorrow about my decision.
Bruce: OK, thanks.

Let's Practice!

Vanessa and Bruce talk about problems and solutions. What did each person say?

Instructions: Draw a line to match the sentences in Column A and Column B.

COLUMN A

1. Sometimes we run into problems
2. I wouldn't worry about it.
3. We have three servers, two bus people, a kitchen manager, a soup and sauce cook and a maître d'.
4. I would hire more staff.
5. It might turn out to be a good idea.

COLUMN B

- a. when we are short-staffed.
- b. That would be very helpful.
- c. We planned the work schedule already.
- d. Isn't that enough?
- e. I'll fill you in tomorrow.

Let's Practice!

Bruce thinks Peter ought to* try the roast beef next time. What else does he think is advisable?

*"ought to": Ought to is a formal way of saying what is advisable.

Instructions: Choose the words from the Word Bank to correctly complete the sentences.

Word Bank

ought / might be / could / should / having

1. You _____ to try the roast beef next time.
2. It _____ very helpful to add staff on the graveyard shift.
3. You _____ add a sous chef and maybe a bartender.

Phrasal Verbs

A phrasal verb is a phrase formed with a verb + preposition.

The combination of the verb and preposition changes the meaning of the verb.

Here are some phrasal verbs related to work:

to follow up -- to return to a subject already discussed

to run into -- to encounter, to experience

to set up -- to establish, to plan

to turn out -- to end by being a certain way to fill (you) in -- to inform, to tell (you)

You conjugate phrasal verbs in the same way you conjugate other verbs.

Affirmative Form	Question Form	Tense
I go out on Saturdays.	Do you go out on Saturdays?	Present tense
I am going out this evening.	Are you going out this evening?	Present Continuous tense
I went out last Saturday.	Did you go out last Saturday?	Simple Past tense
I have gone out every Saturday this month.	Have you gone out every Saturday this month?	Present Perfect tense

Examples:

- I want to follow up on our meeting last week.
- Sometimes we run into problems when we are short-staffed.

Discussing How to Deal with Problems

One way to discuss how to deal with problems is to say what you would do if you were in someone else's situation. This is a polite way of communicating if you use the modals would or could.

I would ...

I wouldn't ...

You Could ...

These are examples of Vanessa and Bruce suggesting how to deal with the problems in the restaurant.

Examples:

• Bruce: Sometimes we run into problems when we are short-staffed.

Vanessa: I wouldn't worry about it. We planned the work schedule already.

• Vanessa: We have three servers, two bus people, a kitchen manager, a soup and sauce cook and a maitre d'. Isn't that enough?

Bruce: You could add an extra sous chef and maybe a bartender.
