Let's Start!

Let's review!

Learning Outcome

Use expressions about relationships and feelings in a range of social and work contexts.

Ask your partner:

- What are some times that you find stressful? Why?
- What are some occasions that you need to ask for help or advice? Why?

Can Do Statements

- I can talk about jobs, work, and social activities.
- I can talk about wishes and imaginary situations.
- I can ask for help or advice, and talk about what is advisable.

Let's Explore!

Vanessa and Peter chat about their experience at the Bistro 88.

Instructions: Read the text aloud.

- Peter: That was a great meal, Vanessa. It was fun to check out Bistro 88. The food is great and the design is so cool!
- Vanessa: Thank you! I'm glad you came to try it out. I wish we served lemon baked cod every day! You might want to try it before the menu changes again.
- Peter: Next time I go out with some friends for a meal, we'll come back.
- Vanessa: Sure! It's always fun to run into people I know. I wish Sally came out with us more often. You ought to invite her.
- Peter: Can you tell me what is the most interesting part of your job?
- Vanessa: The people who work here get along very well. We're like a big family!
- Peter: Could you tell me what is the most difficult part?
- Vanessa: Sometimes employees don't always go along with the roles they have been assigned to. You have to go over their schedule a few times, and follow up after we make decisions.
- Peter: Could you explain to me how you deal with problems?
- Vanessa: The times that are stressful, you had better stay cool as a cucumber. Also, you have to make sure you communicate clearly. I wish everyone understood that we're all working towards the same goal. Our clientele expects great service, so we need to deliver!

Phrasal Verbs

A phrasal verb is a phrase formed with a verb + preposition.

The combination of the verb and preposition changes the meaning of the verb.

Here are some phrasal verbs related to work:

to work towards -- to take actions hoping to achieve a specific goal

to come up -- to think of

to go over -- to review, to study

to go along -- to accept, to agree to

to go out -- to leave the house, to go to a place or places in the town or city

to come out -- to join people socially to come back -- to return to a place to check out -- to experience for the first time to make sure -- to verify

to run into -- to meet someone without planning to set up -- to arrange, to organize to get along -- to be friendly, enjoy being with someone to follow up -- to ask questions or make comments after a decision or meeting

You conjugate phrasal verbs in the same way you conjugate other verbs.

Asking and Giving Advice

There are several ways to ask for help in English. You can use polite and casual language to do this. Let's look at one particular structure for asking for help.

You can use the structure:

Can/Could + you + show/tell+ me+ Question word

Can you show me how to make lasagna?

Could you show me where the washrooms are?

Could you tell me what is on the dessert menu?

To give advice, you can use the structure:

Let me show/tell + you + question word

Let me show you where it is.

Let me tell you what you should do.

Examples:

- Can you tell me what is the most interesting part of your job?
- Could you explain to me how you deal with problems?
