

Instructor: Date:

Learner: Regional Branch:

Program: Center:

CONTENT

- Let's Start! • Let's Explore! • Let's Practice! • Extension Activity • Target Words • Learning Points

Let's Start!

Writing Spot: Restaurant Nightmares

Learning Outcome

Exchange advice and suggestions in communicative situations.

Ask your partner:

- Have you experienced poor service from a business before?
- What happened? Did you know what to do about it?

Can Do Statements

- I can write a short e-mail.
- I can write complex statements using words like who, that or which.
- I can ask for help or advice.

Let's Explore!

What did Vanessa witness when she arrived at work? The renovations on Bistro 88 have turned into a nightmare.

* To "witness" means to see something happen.

Instructions: Read the text aloud.

To Mr. Sawyers,

I am writing to you with regards to renovations that your firm is completing at Bistro 88.

I am not impressed by the nightmare that I witnessed early yesterday morning.

I arrived at work at 6 a.m. to find a complete mess. I am extremely disappointed at the lack of professionalism shown by your staff. How are we supposed to run a restaurant in this state?

The front of house was appalling. Chairs and tables were pushed up against the walls, the power wasn't working and there was debris everywhere. The carpenters and painters also left their equipment behind. The kitchen was filthy and a number of appliances were missing, including our brand-new microwaves. What are we now going to do with the food that is sitting in our fridges? We had no power overnight.

I was forced to contact an electrician who arrived before 8 a.m. to provide us with temporary power. We were forced to close the restaurant for 24 hours.

Your company did not answer my repeated calls to clean up this disaster until that afternoon.

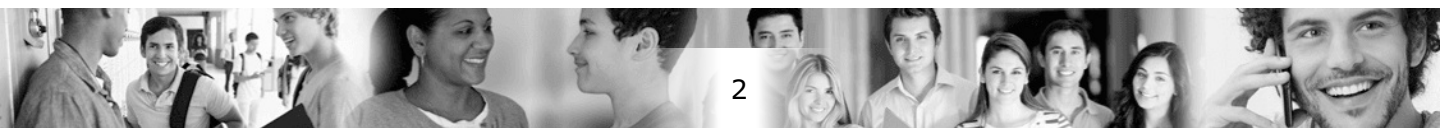

I would suggest that your contractors learn how to work appropriately in a client's place of business.

Could you tell me where to send the invoice from the electrician and the ones related to the spoiled food?

Your company came highly recommended to me, which is why we trusted your firm. We did not sign up for this, nor are we prepared to pay for your mistakes.

Sincerely,

Vanessa Wright
Restaurant Manager

Let's Practice!

Was the behavior of the building firm inexcusable*?

* "inexcusable": too bad or wrong to be excused or ignored.

Instructions: Choose the words from the word bank to correctly complete. Use capitals where necessary.

- 1) I am not impressed by the nightmare _____ witnessed early yesterday morning.
- 2) Your company came highly recommended _____
why we trusted your firm.
- 3) I was forced to contact an electrician _____
before 8 a.m. to provide us with temporary power.
- 4) We are not prepared to pay for mistakes _____
us money.
- 5) We were forced to close the restaurant for 24 hours,
_____ was inexcusable.

Word bank

- that I
- which
- that cost
- who arrived
- which is

Let's Practice!

Vanessa poses* some questions to Mr. Sawyers in her e-mail.

* "poses": To ask or suggest a question.

Instructions: Proofread the sentences. Correct the mistakes. Read the sentences aloud. Check your pronunciation with your instructor.

- 1) Could you tell me where to send the invoice from the electritian and the ones related to the spoiled food?
- 2) I would suggest that your contractors learn how to work appropriately in a client's place of bussiness.
- 3) Can you explian to me how to run a restaurant in this estate?
- 4) Can you tell me what to do with the food that is siting in our frides?

Extension Activity

I have a complaint. Who do I speak to?

Instructions: Complete the following steps. Fill in the Self-Assessment.

- Write a 10 - 12 line telephone dialogue between you and the company who is doing renovations at the restaurant.
- Tell the company you sent them an e-mail.
- Describe how you feel.
- Ask 2 questions using the structure Can/Could + you + show/tell + me + Question word
- Use two relative clauses like that and who.
- Read the dialogue aloud with a partner.

Self-Assessment

Yes

No

I write a 10 - 12 line dialogue about a customer complaint.

☐ ☐

I use relative clauses in a dialogue to a business.

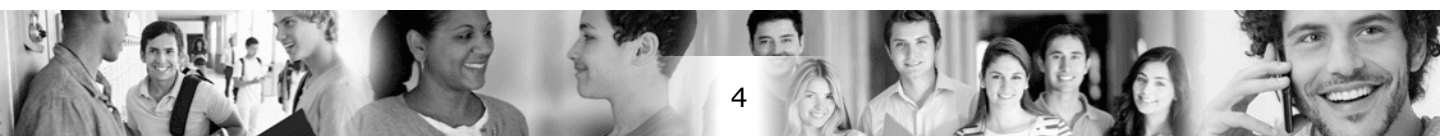

☐ ☐

I use relative clauses to describe a situation or event.

☐ ☐

Target Words

- renovation (noun): to make changes and repairs to an old house, building or room
e.g. Bistro 88 is doing a lot of renovations.
- firm (noun): a business organization
e.g. Mr. Sawyer's firm hires contractors to complete the work.
- state (noun): the overall physical condition of something e.g. The restaurant was in a terrible state.
- debris (noun): things that are lying where they fell or that have been left somewhere because they are not wanted
e.g. There was debris everywhere.
- carpenter (noun): a person whose job it is to make or fix wooden objects or wooden parts of buildings
e.g. The carpenter left his equipment in the kitchen.
- electrician (noun): a person who works on and repairs electrical equipment
e.g. An electrician was called to provide assistance.
- temporary (adjective): continuing for a limited amount of time; not permanent e.g. He was able to give the restaurant temporary power.
- repeated (adjective): said, done, or happening again and again
e.g. You did not answer my repeated calls.
- client (noun): a person who pays a professional person or organization for service
e.g. Bistro 88 is a client of the firm.
- spoiled (adjective): to decay or lose freshness especially because of being kept too long e.g. There was spoiled food in the fridges.

Learning Points

Subject and Object Relative Clauses

You use relative clauses to make clear which person or thing we are talking about.

When you use a relative clause to replace a noun, you use who, whose, which or that.

Example:

I was forced to contact an electrician who arrived before 8 a.m.

Relative Pronoun	Use	Example
who	subject or object pronoun for people	I told you about the electrician who left a mess everywhere.
which	subject or object pronoun for animals and things	Did you see the mouse which was on top of the counter?
which	referring to a whole sentence	He couldn't escape the fees, which surprised me.
whose	possession for people, animals and things	Do you know that employee whose boss behaved unprofessionally?
whom	object pronoun for people (people often use who)	He was invited by the manager whom he met on the weekend.
that	subject or object pronoun for people, animals and things (who and which are also possible)	Can you pass me the chair that is against the wall?

Learning Points

Asking for Help and Advice (How to / where to / what to + verb)

There are several ways to ask for help in English. You can use polite and casual language to do this. Let's look at one particular structure for asking for help.

You can use the structure

Can/Could + you + show/tell+ me+ Question word

Can you show me how to fix the electrical problem?

Could you tell me where to send the invoice?

Could you show me what you painted?

You can also use the structure

Let me show/tell + you + question word

Let me show you how to stand.

Let me show you where it is.

Let me tell you what you should do.

Examples:

- Could you tell me where to send the invoice from the electrician and the one related to the spoiled food?
- Can you explain to me how to run a restaurant in this state?
- Can you tell me what to do with the food that is sitting in our fridges?

